GLAVIS TELLS OF VARIOUS INTERVIEWS WITH BALLINGER

Says He Was Asked to Hold up Action on Alaska Coal Lands Until After the Election.

By Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The proceedings of the Ballinger-Pinchot inquiry, which up to this time has consisted largely of reading into the record letters, telegrams, etc., heretofore made public by Taft, took on a livelier aspect this afternoon when Glavis in continuing his testimony against Ballinger, told of various interviews he had with the latter when he was in and out of the government service. Glavis declared in one of these interviews in October 1909 Ballinger had told him he was having a hard time collecting campaign contributions and that two men involved in the Cunningham claims, who had been liberal con-

FIRST PAPER ON BANKING QUESTION IS SUBMITTED

By Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Today was issued the first of the important series of financial monographs resulting from the exhaustive investigations pursued in this country and abroad under the auspices of the national monetary commission—"The History of Banking in Canada," by Roeliff M. Breckenridge, whose work on that subject, published some twenty years ago, has long been recognized as authoritative. This monograph gains importance from the fact that the Canadian banking system, with its highly developed organization of branch banking, its large freedom of note issue, and its circulation-redemption fund, has for so many years attracted attention in this country.

Some students of our banking problems have advocated the adoption of similar arrangements in the United States and the national monetary commission has consequently made a comprehensive investigation of the history and actual operations of banking in Canada.

In this monograph, issued by the commission today, Mr. Breckenridge has brought the history of Canadian banking down to the present time and has discussed fully the changes and developments which have taken place since the date of publication of his original volume. The monograph is replete with facts

Charitable Societies Cooperate With Government in Distributing Food and Clothing.

Thousands of Refugees Continue to Pour Into The Stricken City From Outside Flooded Provinces.

By Associated Press
PARIS, Jan. 28.—Agonizing cries continue to go up from the people of Paris tonight as they ask: "Will the end never come?" The flood waters rose steadily throughout the day, and at midnight the only statement the fluvial department could issue was that the crest would be reached tomorrow. The water has begun to fall in all the tributaries of the Seine above Paris, but the passage through the city is clogged by the bridges and accumulation of drift. Tonight the city presents a weird spectacle. Soldiers, sailors, firemen and police are hastily constructing temporary walls by the light of camp fires and torches, endeavoring to keep out the invading floods. Pickets continue to patrol the sections of the city plunged into darkness. The situation of the Place de L'Opera tonight is serious. The entire territory has been roped off as unsafe. It is stated the new Equitable Life Assurance building is in danger of collapse.

President Fallieres and Premier Briand today visited the suburbs where the distress is greatest, speaking words of comfort to the homeless and encouragement to the soldiers and those engaged in salvage and rescue work. The charitable organizations are co-operating with the authorities and are throwing open buildings in succoring refugees. Several convents and a number of public buildings have been opened and with military coats and bedding are being transformed into hospitals. The Red Cross is distributing food and clothing to thousands. The number of refugees arriving is enormous, Charenton alone sending in 38,000.

Communication with England, Holland, Denmark, Austria and many cities and towns of France has been completely cut off. The telephone is practically abandoned in Paris. Several hospitals where there are sick refugees are in a dreadful plight, the floods having quenched the fires of the furnaces.

PARIS, Jan. 29.—(Saturday)—It was officially stated this morning that the River Seine was stationary, and that the tributaries would continue to fall. The situation is attributed to the change of weather, which suddenly cleared. Late tonight a crowd attacked two stores in the Temple district, the owners of which were demanding high prices for food.

RUMORS OF A SERIOUS BATTLE IN NICARAGUA

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—An official telegram to the state department from Managua says it is rumored that a battle has been fought between the Madriz and Estrada forces near La Libertad, with heavy losses. Consul Oliveres, of Managua, reports the consular messenger carrying dispatches from Managua to Admiral Kimball at Corinto has been subjected to ill treatment. The telegram from Managua, which was dated today, said in the trial of the members of the court martial which condemned to death Groce and Cannon, the death orders were exhibited which the magistrates hold to be proof that Zelaya was responsible for the execution of the two men. On that ground the accused were discharged.

ASK AID FOR RELIEF OF FRENCH FLOOD VICTIMS

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The American Red Cross society was notified today by Robert Bacon, American ambassador to Paris, that contributions from this country to aid the flood sufferers of France would be acceptable, and tonight issued an appeal to the American people. Contributions should be sent to Charles D. Morton, treasurer of the Red Cross at Washington, D. C., and will be forwarded by cable to the American ambassador. Bacon's cable confirms the previous dispatches to the effect that no Americans, so far as is known, were injured by the flood, although some, among them the ambassador himself, were obliged to leave their homes.

President Will Press Suit Against Merger

By Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The president has determined to press to the conclusion the pending suit against the Union and Southern Pacific railroad companies, looking to a dissolution of the merger, and today concluded to deny the application of Judge Lovett, Harri-man's successor, for the dismissal of the suit. Soon after Lovett and a number of influential railroad men appealed to the president to quash the proceedings before Judge Vandeventer's court at Salt Lake City, Taft, following the course adopted in the case of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad company, when a similar appeal was made, referred the matter to the attorney general for examination. In the New England case it was found to be a cause of action taken by the state of Massachusetts and the significance of the government's interests, it would be the best to abandon the prosecution. Attorney general Wickersham has reached a different conclusion regarding the Union and Southern Pacific merger and handed the president his report, the conclusions of which have justified the president in announcing there is a good case against the railroads, following the decision of the Northern Securities litigation. Therefore the proceedings at Salt Lake City will be continued.

EXPLAINS HIS VIEWS ON POLITICS OF ADMINISTRATION

Wickersham's Assistant Advises People to Get in the Middle of the Road and Aid the Government.

By Associated Press
CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 28.—Wade H. Ellis, assistant to the attorney general, and an old friend of President Taft when the latter lived in Cincinnati, tonight arose at the banquet of the Tippecanoe club, to explain his view point of an administration man on the administration policies and present day events. "Pay no heed to the so-called insurgents on one hand and the so-called stand-patters on the other," said Ellis. "Take no counsel from those who defend Cannonism and Aldrichism to the right of you, or those who would emphasize the program of LaFollette or to magnify the Pinchot incident, to the left of you. Get in the middle of the road and stand shoulder to shoulder for the performance of the party's pledges to the people under the leadership of William H. Taft."

He afterwards declared the majority of the leaders of congress were rallying to the support of the president. Ellis defended the president's attitude toward the tariff bill and criticized the democrats for offering no bill of their own. He declared the first and foremost of the Roosevelt policies was a vigorous and impartial enforcement of the law, and cited the cases of John R. Walsh and Charles Morse to prove the "man higher up" was not being shielded by the administration and pointed to the paper trust indictments, sugar indictments and judgments of the lower courts against the Standard Oil and American Tobacco companies as evidence of the activity of the administration.

TEX POSITIVE THAT UTAH WILL BE THE SCENE

ELY, Nev., Jan. 28.—Tex Rickard returned from Salt Lake City last night, enthusiastic over the outlook for holding the Jeffries-Johnson fight in that city.

"There is no question about that in my mind," he said today. "Everything is virtually cinched. Saltair beach has been secured for the meeting between the boxers. It will make an ideal arena. The business men of Salt Lake City are behind me and with me, almost to a man. They are simply crazy over it."

"The San Francisco bunch are only sore because they could not grab the fight away from Salt Lake. I do not look for a bit of trouble from that source. Everything will be definitely settled within a week. Then we will go ahead with the big preparations for the greatest boxing exhibition the world has ever seen."

"I saw Jeffries the other day. The big fellow certainly looks fine. I never saw him looking better or in more fit condition than he is today. He says he never felt better in his life."

Mr. Rickard will remain in Ely for a week or ten days and will then return to Salt Lake City.

CARRIE NATION FIGHTS IN BUTTE DANCE HALL

By Associated Press
DENVER, Jan. 28.—A special to the Times from Butte, Mont., says that Carrie Nation and May Malloy, keeper of a dancehall in Butte's tenderloin, had a set-to during Mrs. Nation's crusade through the red-light district last night, in which honors were even, but which furnished plenty of excitement to a crowd of 1,000 that was following Mrs. Nation in her campaign. Angered at Mrs. Nation's talk to habitués of the place and fearing for the safety of a number of oil paintings which the Kansas temperance advocate had denounced, the Malloy woman sailed in. She tore Mrs. Nation's bonnet, pulled her hair, while her finger nails were busy with Mrs. Nation's face. Mrs. Nation, in spite of her age was not idle. She swung her high with precision and force to the Malloy jaw. Then the crowd which had been following interfered and put an end to the fracas.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe C. Barrett returned yesterday from their honeymoon trip through southern California. The couple will be at home to their friends after February 15th.
